

Caring for God's Acre Virtual AGM

Online on Tuesday 10th November 2—4pm

Graveyard memorials - an under-appreciated heritage

After the presentation of the Annual Report and accounts, we will be joined remotely by Professor Harold Mytum M.A. D.Phil. F.S.A.

Harold Mytum is Professor of Archaeology at the University of Liverpool; he is a leading expert on the study of graveyard memorials and author of several books and numerous articles.

Graveyards across the UK contain a treasure trove of memorials erected over the past three centuries. Through their shapes and designs, as well as their inscriptions, they reveal an enduring record of individuals, social and religious beliefs, and of family and local history.

Please email info@cfga.org.uk with the subject AGM Attendance to reserve your place. Your joining instructions will be sent to you a few days before the AGM.

The talk is free, but donations are welcome via our website www.caringforgodsacre.org.uk or by cheque to Caring for God's Acre, 11 Drovers House, Craven Arms, Shropshire SY7 9BZ
